A Woman at 49
Money Is Easier
Defense by Retaliation
One Animal, Two Brains

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1928, by Star Co.

ETHEL BARRYMORE, 49 years old yesterday, told friends she was enjoying life "as much as ever."

She ought to be enjoying life more than ever.

For an intelligent woman, real life begins at 49. Wise Providence won't let women do important mental work much before 50. Up to that age nature intends women to be busy with children.

The money situation is better for prosperity and business. Apparently Federal Reserve authorities have decided that promoting usurious rates of interest in order to "let out" respectable financiers that sold the market short a year ago is not wise.

The price of "call money" dropped to 4½ per cent yesterday, the lowest since May 3.

The day before the rate was 7 per cent. Quite a change.

When the President returns from fishing, he might have a commission of his own to investigate respectabilities that sold the market short a year ago and got the Federal Reserve to help them "cover" their foolishness.

London authorities, after the mimic air war, announce unanimously: "London cannot be defended successfully by anti-aircraft measures. The only real safety lies in attacking the raiders."

Enough airplanes to repel attack require gigantic air fleets. The best plan is to prepare a great air fleet to drop bombs and poison gas, so that no enemy would dare attack, knowing that its own cities would be immediately destroyed by British forces.

Some day our country will think about air defense. It hasn't done any thinking yet—hasn't even established a separate air force. We tie our flying forces to old army and navy logics. That is like leaving management of railroads to an old stage coach line.

Roy Chapman Andrews, searching for strange things in Central Asia, reports finding an extinct monster as big as the Woolworth building.

Such an animal could carry home in its mouth a couple of big elephants and walk through an ordinary city crushing buildings as it went.

But it had a small head, little or no thinking power. That is why it is no longer with us.

The biggest dinosaur thus far known had one brain in its head and another half way down the spine, to work the lower part of the body. It hadn't enough energy in the top brain to work the whole dinosaur.

Sometimes, when you consider our Government, you feel that this country is getting in the dinosaur class and needs another brain located somewhere along the line.

Commander Byrd takes a band with him to the South Pole. The seals, whales and penguins will also hear a fine talking machine, supplied with 150 records.

The sad little penguins, so gentle, trustful and harmless, will waddle up to hear the music, and get knocked on the head for their pains and eaten.

This reminds you of old kings that sent out bands to play with their soldiers. The soldiers marched cheerfully behind until they were knocked on the head—human penguins.

Mighty is the power of time and compound interest. In 1858, 70 years ago, Ehrhardt V. Franz, having made $97,786 in the grocery business, left it in trust. A federal court reports that it now amounts to $10,000,000.

Save money and it will save you. Poverty is slavery. The man without a dollar must do what the man with a dollar tells him to do. So get your dollar.

Another Atlantic flight. Bert

'WOLF' ATTACKS ANOTHER GIRL

SHRIEKS AT "LONE WOLF"

KATHERINE O'DONNELL

Fifteen-year-old South Boston girl, of Athens st., who was aroused, as she lay asleep with her mother, by bedroom intruder, whose description tallies with that of "Lone Wolf" who has terrified 27 other women and girls in that district. Katherine's shrieks caused the youth to leap through a window to make his escape.

AUTO INSURANCE GOING UP

PASSENGER CAR RATES WILL BE HIGHER COMING YEAR, OFFICIAL HINTS

Compulsory automobile insurance rates on passenger vehicles are going to be higher next year, Insurance Commissioner Wesley E. Monk plainly indicated today at a State House hearing, called, according to law, to fix the 1929 schedules.

A lower rate is, however, in prospect for truck owners, the commissioner praising business men highly for keeping down truck claims.

On the whole, insurance companies are not making money on Massachusetts compulsory liability insurance, and some have lost money, he said, adding that it was quite evident the present rate was not productive enough to pay losses and leave a profit.

The only basis on which to fix rates is the 1927 experience tables, according to Commissioner Monk. He said that up to March 31, 1928, there were 48,519 claims. The loss ratio was 68.7, not including expenses incidental to losses, and 78.66 per cent, including those expenses.

Tunney's Sisters in Paris Facing Camera Barrage

Paris, Aug. 17 (AP)—Gene Tunney's sisters, Rose and Agnes, evaded the glare of their brother's reflected glory all the way across the Atlantic, only to find photographers waiting for them when they got off the steamship President Harding at Cherbourg yesterday.

They kept their names off the boat's passenger list, and after they had dodged photographers they got to Paris incognito, but were spotted as soon as they arrived of their hotel.

SOUTH BOSTON TERROR, 'LONE WOLF,' IN ATTACK NEAR POLICE STATION

Evading police and sneaking into the bedroom of a 15-year-old girl, the "lone wolf" again today loosed a wave of terror in South Boston, where he has terrorized women and girls for two months with constantly increasing boldness.

As he was lifting the bed clothing from 15-year-old Katherine O'Donnell of Athens st. early today, she awoke and her screams drove him to leap from a window to make his escape.

Four automobiles containing numbers of the city "flying squadron" combed the district which is close to the Division 6 police station, without finding any further traces of the "wolf."

At least 27 girls living in the same locality have been annoyed or attacked within the last eight weeks, according to police, and traps set to insure the "wolf" have failed.

One more instance of the intruder's boldness was called to the attention of the authorities today when Mrs. Katherine Joyce of Athens st. reported a gold watch stolen from the bedroom of the K

GILL ADMITS WINE AND ROMANCE AT JAIL CAMP

By JOHN H. NOONAN

Wine, women and romance have flourished at the Norfolk Prison colony, from time to time, Admission that all three have been known among the prisoners of the county was made openly and without fear by the prison superintendent. Howard Gill, who talked freely with me about the charges made against the prison management by Edward T. Sannen, former prisoner at the camp.

The superintendent, who has been ordered by Governor Fuller to make a full and complete report in answer to the charges, is apparently unworried about the disbarred New Bedford lawyer who made the charges from a cell in State Prison.

"I'll just take these charges up in order," said the superintendent. "There has been booze in the camp, and we have found it from time to time. But it is almost impossible to keep visitors from smuggling it in to their friends. Those visitors we suspected of the smug-

Atty. William R. Scharton, who already has instituted legal proceedings in Suffolk court in an attempt to defeat the blockade by State and city police, appeared at the State House and conferred at length with the Attorney-General regarding action by the State.

Warner was requested to convene a special Grand Jury session to investigate alleged collusion between Dist.-Atty. Bushnell and Maj.-Gen. Foote, commissioner of public safety and head of the State constabulary.

Scharton also asked that a Grand

BLASTS IN CAMBRIDGE BLAZE MENACE FIREMEN

Twenty families fled to safety today as fire, accompanied by explosions of gasoline which endangered the lives of firemen, destroyed an auto storage shed of the University Overland Express Co., Chestnut and Sidney sts., Cambridge, together with two passenger cars, two trailers and a truck.

Several dwellings caught fire from blazing embers and were saved by firmen, assisted by a volunteer bucket brigade of men and boys. Most of those who fled from the ames were women and children.

Bartholomew Duffy, 31, of Litchow st., Dorchester, who was in the yard when a gas tank on a truck exploded, starting the fire, had a narrow escape when a sheet of flame. He was rushed to the Relief of Hospital and treated for severe body burns and lacerations.

WOMEN GO TO HOOVER, MEN SWING TO SMITH

Chicago, Aug. 17—Overshadowing all other aspects of the returns from the nation-wide straw vote being conducted by the Hearst newspapers was the clear indication in the total tabulations that party lines are going to be smashed to smithereens throughout the nation.

The percentages of switches noted in the returns from all sections of the country is the most remarkable known in American politics in generations.

In some spots the switches amount to a revolution. In congested areas men are switching from Hoover to Smith by the wholesale, while in adjacent territory touching the rural sector, the women are switching from Smith to Hoover in ever more amazing percentages.

Late returns also bear out the early indication that an upheaval is in the making in the Southern States.

Tennessee, and possibly one or two other of the "Solid South" commonwealths, may break away from the Democratic party.

DEMOCRATS PLAN BIG BANK TO AID FARMERS

New York, Aug. 17 (INS)—Wall Street was stirred today by apparently well-founded reports that Democratic campaign managers are seriously considering one of the most daring plans of appeal for the farm vote ever suggested—a plan to organize a New York bank with $50,000,000 capital to extend easy credit to agricultural regions for marketing crops.

A. F. C. Pleke, well known in the financial district for his connection with one of the larger insurance companies, acknowledged today "informal discussion" of such a plan had occurred.

Love at Last Is the Victor — After Siege Through the Years — On Heart of Mary Garden

TEMPERAMENTAL STAR OFTEN WOOED BUT NEVER WON, HELD WORLDS BY HER GOLDEN VOICE

Times almost without number it has been reported that Mary Garden was engaged. Sometimes it was a prince or other noble personage. Always it was a notable. Now she is 51 years old and won by a journalist, Paris reports announce. She has been an operatic star for more than a score of years and has had the world at her feet. Her new fiance, the Paris newspaperman, is not known in this country. Above are photographed some of the prominent men with whose names the name of Mary Garden has been linked.

WEDDING BELLS WILL RING FOR HER

Mary Garden, one of the world's foremost opera stars, who is reported from Paris as engaged to Pierre Plessis, a French journalist, is shown here in one of her best known American roles—as "Melisande."

IN PARIS TRIUMPH

Miss Garden as "Cherubim" her greatest European success. She never presented this opera in America, but Paris went wild about her in the role here depicted.

giling were watched as closely as possible.

"The prisoners who got the booze were disciplined. There was a citizen employe of the prison we caught smuggling in rum. We fired him and haven't had any trouble since.

TELLS OF ROMANCE

"Now about the women and the romance. That's true—you bet. I'm no Romeo, understand, but I do recognize a pretty romance when I see one and believe me we have a wonderful one right here in the camp.

"A sweet little lady, employed here, happened to find her ideal man working in the garden of the building she was employed in.

"From day to day they passed greetings to each other, she standing at a window in the house which the inmate worked in the garden or about the lot.

"The romance went on until the inmate came to me and told his story. They had agreed to get married.

"I sent for the girl, told her I had heard of the romance and asked for her version of it. She told the most sincere and sweetest love romance I ever heard.

"Unfortunately, a prison colony is no place to conduct a romance; so it was my unpleasant duty to postpone the marriage; request the girl to get other employment, and compliment the inmate for his choice.

"By the way, the inmate is a highly educated man, as honorable as any prisoner I ever met, and may soon be rubbing shoulders with us all."

CONCEALS NAMES

No amount of pressure to get some of the more intimate details, such as names, etc., would make the superintendent let go.

Then came the charge that Russian caviar was served at the camp. Gill said: "Caviar. I love it. Know where you can get a good portion near here? I sure would like to take it home to dinner tonight. We had it once since I came out to the colony. I think it was on our wedding anniversary.

"And I paid for it from my own pocket."

"We never try to control an inmate's politics. Neither Herbert Hoover nor Al Smith need fear that their platforms will be forced down any man's throat. The inmates will settle that matter themselves without any advice from officials. Radical literature. We don't want that here, and if it is found we soon destroy it."

MEN BRAWNY

While standing there watching the men, without guards, some of them in the best condition of their lives, clear-eyed, tanned to the waist, steel-muscled, the thought came over us that they were good workers. The superintendent went on.

"This is no Sunday school. The rules are broken here from time to time. There are irregularities, but we discover most of them and punishment, in accordance with the nature of the irregularity, is always inflicted.

"Inmates here have their regular weekly visitors. Wives, sweethearts and mothers come here to see them. Naturally they enjoy more leeway and privacy during these visits than would be the case in a walled-in institution, with an armed guard sitting near them watching.

"I don't mean to say that prisoners at any time are out of the surveillance of our officers.

"If a young girl's sweetheart, or husband is a prisoner and she comes to see him, naturally she displays her affection. As long as it is within bounds, as observed by the officer on guard, there is no attempt to restrain them.

"We have housed here in our buildings the selected group of about 115 prisoners from the State Prison at Charlestown.

"This camp has no insurmountable barriers about it. There is no fence or wall as yet although we have been constructing one for some time. The prisoners are largely engaged in open-air work. The privileged here, naturally perhaps, are greater than those accorded in the State Prison.

TELLS OF "KICKERS"

"Like all penal institutions we have our recalcitrants and chronic kickers. But, in the main, I should say that better than 90 per cent have co-operated with me fully in the conduct of the institution under the rules of the Prison Council.

The superintendent concluded:

"I welcome an investigation. It does us all good. It keeps the public official on his toes. Makes the men feel their responsibility. Shows the inmates that they can get a square deal and lets the public know that they are getting what they pay for.

"It would not be proper for me to give out detailed information in answer to these charges before I give the commissioner of corrections what he has requested. Anything further you will receive at the State House at the proper time."

Ford Tips Waiter $1 for Glass of Hot Water and Salad

Henry Ford and his party were back at the Wayside Inn in Sudbury today, after a mysterious visit to Providence, where he tipped a waiter $1, and a call at Willimantic, Ct., where he purchased one of the first Edison-made generators for his machinery collection.

Ralph Miele, the waiter who served Ford a glass of hot water and a vegetable salad, found a crisp new $1 bill under Ford's plate when his distinguished guest had departed.

He is contemplating having it framed as a memento.

Other than to say that he went to Providence to "get a part for an engine," Mr. Ford refused to comment on his visit to Rhode Island. He denied he was going to purchase an old organ in Portsmouth or establish an airfield at Mansfield.

paid to any other motion picture actress in Europe.

One million dollars in property will be involved in the suit, according to Attorney Golden.

Rumors of impending divorce between Miss Gray and her husband have been current for some time. While in New York recently the noted dancer is said to have announced she and her husband would go separate ways and to have intimated she would file suit in Milwaukee.

Golden said today Boag told him he "would fight to the end."

The couple were married in 1924 after a romance of several years.

Boag alleges he was responsible for much of Miss Gray's success on the stage and screen and cites her past career in substantiation of claims it was through his promotion and publicity that she was able to draw record salaries. In one instance he said she was paid $16,000 for a single week's appearance at a local theater.

DEMOCRATS IN BIG BANK PLAN

Democratic national committee, and William F. Kenny, wealthy New York contractor who was the principal financial backer of the Smith pre-convention campaign, are named in Wall Street gossip as two of those interested.

Raskob declined to discuss the reports further than to affirm that a suggestion had been made by farm leaders that wealthy friends of Gov. Smith league together in some plan to assist the farmers.

This plan was originally presented to Raskob by Grey Silver, Washington, D. C., formerly legislative representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Such a move, Silver argued, would enable Democratic campaign speakers in the farm belt to point to actual steps toward agricultural relief while the campaign was in progress. Admittedly, Silver said, such a plan would have a tremendous political appeal, but the practical difficulties of its execution seemed insurmountable until the idea of launching a new bank was suggested.

White Race to Hold Its Supremacy in the World, Says Savant

Williamstown, Aug. 17 (AP)—White people have no cause for alarm at the rate of increase of the colored race, Professor R. D. McKenzie, University of Washington, said in an address before the Institute of Politics today.

"If there is any rising tide of color," Professor McKenzie said, "it is that of the white race. The white population of the world during the past 100 years has increased much faster than all the colored peoples put together, and the fear on the part of the white man that the Orientals eventually will outbreed him has no basis in fact."

vehicles were damaged, no one was hurt.

A spark or the glaring rays of the sun caused the first explosion, according to firemen, who found the flames leaping high to the air when they reached the scene. The heat was so intense they were forced to direct streams of water on the blazing structure from a distance of 30 feet or more.

FAMILIES ROUTED.

Roofs of several dwellings caught on fire, while trees and a pile of lumber in the yards of others caused a fright among the occupants.

Among those driven out when flames began licking their houses were the families of Edward Pope, Howard McGrath and Joseph Pitts in Sidney st., and the families of Charles Raymond, Thomas McDonald, C. Lauritzsen and Mrs. Annie Rubin on Chestnut st.

These two deaths brought the total to eight in Massachusetts by heat and drowning since the present heat wave began.

Two prostrations were also reported today.

Amelia Donnelly, 29, of Collins st., Lynn, collapsed in Central sq., Lynn, and was removed to Lynn Hospital.

Edward F. Woolff, 51, of Brookline, was overcome at the Boston & Maine Railroad station in Lynn and also was removed to the hospital.

Chested of the expected relief by one of three showers, Greater Boston sweltered again today.

Yesterday's 19 a. m. mercury reading of 80 was surpassed by one degree at 10 a. m. today, although up to that time the mercury had lagged behind the readings of yesterday.

At 10:30 the mercury had jumped two more degrees to 83.

INSURANCE ON AUTOS TO JUMP

This, he declared, left the companies 21.84 per cent of the premiums for all other expenses, including overhead, and for profit.

Total premiums amounted to $16,896,377 and total losses to $13,344,239, leaving a balance to the companies of $3,460,038.

The rate on taxicabs, the insurance commissioner indicated also, will be reduced substantially.

One innovation which the commissioner said he was considering is a change in the rate territories whereby the cities and towns having the worst "experience" will be put into new classes.

He proposes to set up a group to be known as Territory 1-A, which would include Boston, Revere, Chelsea, Somerville, Cambridge, Everett and Winthrop.

The remaining communities in the present Territory No. 1—Arlington, Brookline, Dedham, Malden, Medford, Milton, Newton, Quincy, Watertown and Winchester—would make up Territory 1-B.

Replying to a question put by Ralph Swartz for the Independent taxicab drivers, Monk said he intends to establish this class on a specified ear basis rather than a mileage basis, which would cut the present rate about 16 per cent, or about $63.

st. house in which she lived until yesterday.

Asleep in bed, she was awakened by someone moving in the room, she said. She screamed and the figure of a young man rose from the shadows by a dresser and fled to the window and away. Not until later did she miss the watch and decide to report the theft to police.

Not until he entered the bedroom of 14-year-old Ethel Edwards and her mother on Washburn st., on the morning of August 15, did it become known that police had been seeking him for weeks because of complaints from girls and women.

In the case of the Edwards girl he stole some change from a purse in the room but was then frightened away by the girl's screams.

As in that case Katherine O'Donnell was sleeping with her mother when she awoke suddenly to find the form of a man bending over the bed. Her cries awakened her mother and other members of the household.

Both the girl and her mother obtained a description of the intruder from the light thrown into the room by a street lamp and they said he was about 22 years old, five feet 10 inches tall and wore a dark suit and light gray cap.

Unafraid, the mother sprang from the bed and switched on the lights in the room but at the same moment the intruder leaped from the window and was gone. Within a few minutes a report had been flashed to every police division but especially to the flying squadron.

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

BOSTON, FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1928

Hub Fails to Honor Own Hero of Sky

There was no parade.
There were no cheering throngs.
There was no greeting "snowstorm" of torn paper.
Nor any speeches, nor any banquets.
There was not even a single handshake.

Yet a Boston man—a Boston boy born and bred—who attained that metaphysical goal of fame in perhaps the greatest flight in the history of aviation, returned to his native hearth today.

Capt. Harry Lyon, navigator of the Southern Cross on her three-hop span of the Pacific from California to Australia, stepped into Boston today, unannounced and unwelcomed—and stayed an hour.

With him, bound for the summer home of Lyon's mother at Paris Hill, Me., were Mrs. Keith Miller and Capt. William Lancaster, who flew from England to Tasmania and with whom he hopes to achieve a round trip flight across the Atlantic next year.

In place of a roaring welcome to a son come home from a glorious triumph, Boston extended the famous rider a bit of bad news.

HEARS OF WIFE'S UIT

For during the single hour he was here he learned for the first time that Mrs. Erma Moler Lyon of San Francisco was seeking annulment of her marriage to him on the grounds that when he wed her in 1929 he already was married to another woman.

"This is a new one on me," Lyon told the several reporters who formed his reception committee.

But in spite of bad news and lack of a reception, which he neither expected nor wanted, the flier, who was born in Charlestown, son of an admiral in the U. S. Navy, was in good humor and very enthusiastic over the flight which he will attempt with Mrs. Miller and Capt. Lancaster in the spring.

"We will fly from Los Angeles to Transasey bay, N. F., and from there to Croyden Airdrome, England. At Croyden we will refuel and start right back for Los Angeles by way of New York.

"We are going to attempt the westward flight with but one stop and expect to reach Los Angeles 100 hours after leaving Croyden."

ASST. WAR SECY. DAVISON LANDS AT HUB AIRPORT

Assistant Secretary of War Trubee Davison landed at the Boston Airport today in a Loening amphibian plane on his way to Bolling Field, Washington. Secretary Davison is ending his vacation and returning to duties at the capital.

5 IN DEADLOCK FOR HONOR TO RACE COOK

The deadlock among the five persons seeking the Republican nomination for State auditor against the incumbent, Alonzo B. Cook, continued today despite a get-together meeting at the Parker House.

The meeting was a star chamber proceeding but it was earned that while all were unanimous on the desirability of combining on one candidate, not one was willing to step out.

The five are Dwight L. Allison, Watertown; Miss Julia R. Buxton, Springfield; Roland H. Choate, Milton; Harvey E. Frost, Somerville, and Roswell F. Phelps, Dedham.

Frost left the meeting in high dudgeon, after telling newspapermen he would not withdraw if he got as few as five votes.

The party met in room 118, proceedings being opened by Kenneth D. Johnson of Milton, who conceived the the idea of getting the candidates together. He is a supporter of Choate. The next speaker was General Clarence R. Edwards, also a Choate man, who offered to leave the room when someone suggested each candidate be limited to one representative at the meeting. All agreed Gen. Edwards could remain and he then said Choate was the strongest candidate and should be selected to mak ethe fight against Cook, who heretofore has been successful in getting the nomination despite the opposition of party leaders.

Dead-Eye Wives Heave Rolling Pins at 'Hubby'

Durham, N. H., Aug. 17 (NNS)—What is believed to be the first rolling pin throwing contest ever held in the East was to be staged today under the auspices of the University of New Hampshire, in connection with the farm and home week celebration.

The target of the rolling pins is a life-size dummy of a husband and the contestants are 30 women, trained by Miss Ann Beggs of the home economics department of the University. Many entrants are unmarried.

While the women test strength and aim with the large kitchen utensils of varied usefulness, the men are to engage in a scything contest. The champion hand-mower is Walter Stickney, 66, of Hollis. He is ready to defend his title against 10 scythers under Dean Taylor in this traditional event of farmers' week.

'CUT AIR ARMIES TO SAVE WORLD' —LLOYD GEORGE

London, Aug. 17 (AP)—If the recent air manouvers over London proved anything they proved that cutting down of armament of the air is most urgent, in the opinion of David Lloyd George, the Liberal leader.

Commenting in an Evening Star interview on the lessons of the manouvers, which many experts declare revealed London was vulnerable to an air attack, Lloyd George said:

"It is horrible to think of what war in the air will mean in the future. It will be devastation, annihilation—nothing less."

The Liberal leader said the whole thing showed "that pacts are not the slightest use unless you tackle disarmament. It is useless to have pacts as long as nations are perfecting the machinery of destruction.

"It is bound to end sooner or later in a smash. Of all the armaments that should be cut down, armament of the air is the most urgent."

NAB 20 IN DOPE RAIDS; BARE BIG U.S.-INDIA RING

New York, Aug. 17 (AP)—In efforts to break up what they described as an international narcotic ring operating out of India, federal narcotic agents have raided eight Chinese houses in Newark, N. J., and two freighters at Brooklyn docks. Twenty persons were arrested and $20,000 in narcotics seized.

The raids on the old rookeries in Newark's Chinatown provided as much color as movie thrillers, the agents said, many of the places raided being honeycombed with blind alleys, trapdoors and underground tunnels.

In one of the raids a hole had to be cut through the ceiling of a "smoking" room while armed agents guarded the exits and arrested the inmates as they scurried out.

The opium seized on the two freight ships was found in the reservoirs. Four men were arrested there and 16 in Newark.

George W. Cunningham, federal agent for this district, said the raids were the culmination of months of undercover work in India and this country, and that the investigation was not yet completed.

PARTY LINES GOING, HEARST STRAW VOTE SHOWS

HOOVER AT TOP IN POLL

violence of the switches noted in today's tabulations. In twelve counties of that State, 725 men switched from the Coolidge to Smith camp, and 370 men from the Davis to the Hoover side. In the same territory, 366 women left the G. O. P. to line up with Smith, while 169 Democratic women announced their support of Hoover.

The tearing up of the old party covenants is even more marked in Illinois.

In 69 counties, not including Chicago and Cook county, 1017 men switched from the Republican to the Democratic circle, and 377 Democratic men walked into the Hoover corral.

In the same territory 338 women quit the G. O. P. for the New York governor, while 380 Democratic women left the donkey and made up with the elephant.

HOOVER LEADS

These switches, for the most part, are more marked in northern Indiana and in districts adjacent to Chicago, in Illinois, than out in the country districts.

Hoover was still leading in the nation-wide poll.

Of the nation-wide vote, Hoover is polling 50.9 per cent to 49.1 per cent for Smith. Hoover's lead is made possible by the big advantage he apparently has with the women voters. He is getting about 57 per cent of the women's vote, while the best Governor Smith can do is 43.3 per cent.

Illinois is boasting Hoover's stock where he is polling 54.8 per cent of the total vote, in which the women votes predominate by 57 per cent to their total.

Governor Smith is creeping up in Cook city of Chicago. Belated returns that came in late, which will not show in this morning's tabs, seem to indicate that the governor may soon take the lead in the Chicago vote.

Secretary Hoover was still in the lead in Chicago and environs with 51.1 per cent of the total vote, due to the women's help, although Smith is in the lead with the percentage of men's vote.

LINES SMASHED

Some outstanding switches are noted in the ward vote of Chicago. Returns from 14 of the wards show 625 men switched from Republican to Democratic, while only 88 men switched from the Democratic side to the Republican. In the same district 517 women quit the Republican and 91 women voters quit the Democratic.

Returns from New York emphasized the smashing of old party lines through the upstate territory, while in New York City, Governor Smith was pulling away from Secretary Hoover.

Returns from a widely-scattered sector, embracing Syracuse, Buffalo, Albany, Rochester and surrounding territory, together with the New York City vote, give Smith a total of 22,541, to 21,564 for Hoover.

In New York City proper, Smith has a total of 5788, to 3213 for Hoover, while in New York County, in territory adjacent to New York City, Hoover has 762 to 369 for Smith.

In Syracuse and adjacent territort, Hoover has a total of 11,839 to 8997 for Smith.

The city vote of Buffalo is running almost two to one for Smith.

Hoover Gains Still More in New England

Herbert Hoover continues in the lead he has maintained over Governor Smith in Northern New England, in the national straw vote being conducted by the Hearst newspapers.

A slow but steady forging ahead was noticed in the figures of Hoover, who tops Smith in Northern New England States by a vote of 2 to 1.

Smith has made gains in these States, but to date not enough to worry the Republican voters.

Hoover also leads Smith in the vote of the women so far tabulated, by the same ratio as he does the men.

Massachusetts, including Boston, gives Smith a lead over Hoover, of 2 to 1. The votes of the women also give Smith a 2 to 1 lead in this respect.

Strange as it may seem, in states like Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, where they are giving Hoover a lead, the changing of votes from the Coolidge columns of 1924 to Smith predominated over those who are switching from Davis to Hoover.

Boston has given to Smith his greatest lead in the entire straw vote. It has been his mainstay in keeping the lead for all of New England. At present, it is problematical whether he will be able to withstand the assault of the smaller towns in New England, when the votes are tabulated.

In the cities there seems no doubt that Smith is collecting the women's votes.

But, on the other hand, Hoover is doing the same thing in the small towns. And many of the socalled towns in New England, especially those in northern New England, are really quite large.

Voters in the straw canvass who say they did not vote in 1924 are fast mounting into the hundreds in Boston, and Providence and Woonsocket, R. I., these voters are strong for Smith. But in other parts of New England, they are on the bandwagon for Hoover.

The swing to Smith, by both men and women, has been one of the most interesting features of the straw vote, which is being conducted throughout New England by the Boston Evening American in connection with the nation-wide campaign.

This is a sense explains the small vote that Hoover is getting this year, compared with the huge vote given Coolidge. It likewise, of course, proves the totals of Smith skyward, is to simply a walkaway for the New York Governor over the Democratic standard-bearer of 1924.

Coolidge Cuts Some Cheese With Farmers of Wisconsin

Superior, Wis., Aug. 17 (AP)—A mammoth wheel of fancy Swiss cheese, weighing 125 pounds, the gift of the farmers of Green County, Wis., awaited President Coolidge at his office today.

William Olson and a deputation of farmers and cheese manufacturers from Green County, wished to express in this manner their appreciation of the Chief Executive for raising the tariff on their product two years ago.

Boyd Jones, 14-year-old high school boy of Gallup, N. M., who has been spending two months in the saddle riding from his home town to the summer White House to meet President Coolidge, reached the end of his 1000-mile journey today.

Jones was to ride up to the executive offices to invite President Coolidge to the Gallup intertribal Indian ceremonial at the end of this month.

Camel and a Fish Oust Elephant and Donkey

Northampton, Aug. 18 (INS)—Republican women of President Coolidge's "old home town" today tossed the far-famed G. O. P. elephant into the discard and adopted the camel as the party's emblem. Likewise, they replaced the Democratic donkey with a fish.

On the camel, they said, they hope to have Hoover ride to victory in the November presidential election.

The "old line" Republicans gasped with astonishment today when the Women's Republican Club opened headquarters and hung out a banner on which a camel took the place of the elephant. Under the camel was the inscription:

"He stands on his own feet; travels a great distance by his own power, and lives a long and useful life."

On the other end of the banner was a fish, used to replace the traditional Democratic donkey. Under the drawing of the member of the finny tribe was this inscription:

"He drifts with every current; gets nowhere; and is easily caught. He is worthless until dead."

Over all was the inscription: "Which does America want?"

INCOME TAX EMPLOYE IS FREE IN RUM CASE

Frank P. Mahoney, of Prescott st., Newton, an employe of the state income tax department, in Newton district court today was found not guilty of operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. Lieut. Edward Hughes said he smelled as liquor on Mahoney's breath when he was taken to the station, nor did he exhibit evidences of intoxication.

GUSTIN FIGHTS EXTRADITION IN COURT

The fight to prevent extradition of Frank Wallace, alias Frank Gustin, to Detroit for trial in connection with a holdup and murder, was carried to the Supreme Court today where Governor Fuller's order of extradition was vigorously attacked by defense counsel.

Defense attorneys asked a writ of habeas corpus to obtain Wallace's release from Charlestst. jail where, according to their petition, he is "unlawfully restrained by John F. Stokes, an officer of the state police."

"The pretense for this restraint, according to the belief of the petitioner, Wallace, is solely a certain warrant purported to have been issued by Governor Fuller for deportation of Wallace to Michigan," the petition declares.

This warrant issued by the Governor is in violation of the laws of the commonwealth and nation, Attys. Daniel W. Casey and John W. Corcoran assert, because the demand of the Michigan Governor was not accompanied by any competent evidence that Wallace is the Frank Wallace charged with the crime.

They alleged, further, that Governor Fuller acted without any legal sufficiency or competent evidence that Wallace was in Michigan at the time of the commission of the crime.

The petition also puts Wallace on record as saying he was in Michigan on June 6, 1928, when the murder was committed, and says the Governor in issuing the extradition order acted directly contrary to evidence proving he was in Boston on that date.

Removes Breathing Tube; Can't Get It Back; Suffocates

Easton, Pa., Aug. 17 (AP)—A. Bartell Avveduti, salesman for a New York importing house, took his life into his own hands once too often.

Avveduti breathed through an artificial respiratory orifice. It was necessary at times to remove a short tracheotomy tube in order to clean it. While staying at a hotel, Avveduti removed the tube as he had done many times, but was unable to replace it.

He rushed into the hallway to get aid. A bellboy summoned a physician, but Avveduti was dead of suffocation when the physician arrived.

Boys' and Girls' Clubs to See Paper Film

FAMOUS ARTIST IN NEWSPAPER FILM

Of all newspaper characters in the world, none is better known than the beautifully artistic Brinkley Girl, and no artist is more beloved than Nell Brinkley, shown as she appears next week at Loew's State in "The Making of a Newspaper."

Members of three additional leading organizations, through their officers, have accepted invitations of the Boston Evening American to attend Loew's State theater as special guests next week to witness the absorbing two-reel educational film, "The Making of a Newspaper."

These organizations include Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts of America and Boston Swimming Club. Hundreds of boys and girls from these three organizations will see the film as guests of this newspaper.

Miss Lotta Clark, Greater Boston director of the Camp Fire Girls said: "This is a splendid opportunity that the Boston American is extending to the Camp Fire Girls and I am sure our members will appreciate it. I believe this picture will be of vital interest to our members."

Edward S. Roche, of Greater Boston Council of Boy Scouts of America was equally enthusiastic over the opportunity afforded the members to glimpse the picture. He considers this type of picture the kind that is instructive, as well as entertaining.

Other organizations that have previously accepted invitations to see the picture are Boston Rotary Club, Boston City Club, Women's City Club of Boston, Boston Home and School Association, Republican City Committee of Boston, Women's Division, and Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts.

"The Making of a Newspaper" is a thrilling picture from the opening scene, which shows the British steamer Antinoe sinking in mid-ocean, and the rescue of the crew by the crew of the United States steamship President Roosevelt, to the last fade-out showing famous artists who create the "funnies."

MAKING OF PAPER SHOWN

The resources of 28 Hearst newspaper plants throughout the country were used in filming the picture, which carries the spectator through a newspaper office from the time the "flash" on the sinking of the Antinoe and rescue of the crew comes in, until it appears on the street in the finished newspaper.

Every process of importance is shown. There are vivid scenes in the editorial department where the story is written and edited in record time, the setting-up in the composing room, making of "cuts" in the engraving department from pictures received by wireless, making of metal plates in the stereotype room and the presses turning out the papers by thousands at high speed.

INVENTIONS SHOWN

Amazement will be the lot of the average person as he sees the picture unfold. How marvelous inventions such as radio, electrically operated typewriters, etc., are used to get out a live newspaper is shown in vivid manner. How telephone, telegraph, cable, and other inventions are utilized are also shown. The film gives a clear-cut picture of the danger, romance and initiative that figure in the daily life of every big newspaper office.

Closeups of many prominent persons, including William Randolph Hearst, whose newspapers are read by 20,000,000 persons daily, Arthur Brisbane, the most widely read editor in the world, and of the artists who create the Hearst funnies are shown.

POLA NEGRI TO QUIT U. S. AND STAR IN GERMANY

Paris, Aug. 17 (INS)—Poli Negri, Polish film beauty who won her reputation at Hollywood, starts to go to Germany to make pictures, her husband, Prince Serge Mdvani, announced today. He said he had become his wife's manager and is going to Berlin to confer with German film producers. Her American contract has expired.

The young Georgian noble was much upset over persistent reports that there is an estrangement between his wife and himself.

Man Decapitated by Train

Springfield, Aug. 17 (AP)—Police and Boston & Maine officials are seeking to learn the identity of a man of about 35 whose decapitated body was found beside a spur track in the freight yards today. Dr. C. A. Schillander, associate medical examiner, believes the man committed suicide.

GET NEW CLUES TO APP, BUT NO APP

William App, who escaped from State Prison two weeks ago, was in conversation in downtown Boston with a former fellow-worker, then police were told by Arthur Ingersoll, a carpenter, of Plaire ave., East Weymouth.

This was learned today after Lieut. John E. Powers and a squad of plain clothes police of Cambridge had been rushed to the Waterfront-Cambridge car line on a tip from a woman that she had seen App boarding a Cambridge-bound car in Watertown.

The Cambridge officers, however, failed to identify any male passenger as App.

According to Ingersoll's report to the police, he came to Boston yesterday and met App near union headquarters in Washington st. He recognized App immediately, the East Weymouth man said, because both men had worked together on carpentry jobs in Newton and Wellesley.

Gene Tunney Writes Life Story for Boston Evening American

THE story of a boy of the streets who made himself a millionaire by his own efforts is not a new one in American annals. It has been done many times, but never has it been done with the glamor and under the same circumstances as those which surrounded Gene Tunney.

MY TRUE LIFE STORY is Gene Tunney's autobiography. With the forehandedness which always has marked this remarkable young man's career he has not waited until interest in him and his accomplishments has waned, until his memory plays tricks which might cause him to forget many interesting episodes in his life.

Instead, he has set them down here for the first time—and while they are fresh in his mind. It is a story simply told and of intense interest, not because it is the life of a man who became the world's champion heavyweight, but because of the manner in which it was done and the type of man who did it.

Tunney has written his autobiography in 12 chapters. The first will appear on Monday and the succeeding chapters will follow three times a week—on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

'Tiger Jack' Will Be Back, Says Runyon

By DAMON RUNYON

THE old Manassa Mauler, Jack Dempsey, slipped into Stillman's gymnasium the other day, and did a little work by way of keeping himself in condition for his dramatic debut in Mr. David Belasco's new opus, "The Big Fight."

Jack boxed with Ralph Smith, the California Giant, and Italian Jack Herman. I believe that Dempsey is to do some boxing in connection with his acting, and if the show runs long enough he ought to wind up the engagement in pretty fair condition.

One reason why Dempsey always seemed in good condition at the top of his career was because he was generally working on the stage, and he had to box a couple of rounds three or four times a day.

He is in fairly good condition right now. He weighs around 200 pounds, and his muscles are still loose, and elastic. His torso displays none of the flabbiness that comes with the years and idleness.

His figure remains what the ladies would call svelte. Only his legs, once slim and tapering, have taken on flesh and an appearance of heaviness that is all the more apparent when he tries to step around.

He can get up on his toes fast as in the old days of his pugilistic puissance, but he can't stay up there long.

And yet if you hadn't seen Dempsey when he was a lean wolf of a man, you would judge him on his gymnasium appearance as a chap almost ready for battle. He can heave those paunches just about as hard as ever—that is certain.

I am now inclined to think that it is a good even-money bet that Dempsey will be back in the ring in 1929, unless there is any real danger of his eyes being permanently injured, which I doubt.

The temptation will be money. I imagine that Dempsey is "well heeled," if not indeed a rich man, but he is the sort that can always use money. And if he can pick up another half million, or more, in one gob, who can blame him for seizing the opportunity?

THE very fact that Dempsey is embarking on a dramatic career would indicate that he wishes to keep in the money-making class. He has had all the glory he can use, though there may be some appeal to him in the idea of working in the same show with his wife.

There is no doubt but that with Tunney in retirement, Jack Dempsey is the best heavyweight fighter in the world today, in spite of the fact he dropped below the fighting form he showed against the terrible Sharkey two and against Tunney the first time.

I think you will find their turning to the old Mauler next year to restore the heavyweight division to its faded prestige, regardless of what Dempsey says now.

He could have chinned the abandoned title, and probably been recognized immediately but it wouldn't have been a logical procedure in view of the fact that he won't be ready to battle until next year.

Then they will probably toss him in with the best man produced during the winter, and we shall see if the million-dollar gate is a thing of the past.

RALPH SMITH, the huge Californian who is working with Dempsey, is the biggest exponent of the Sour Science since the days of old Jess Willard, and for a time he had the smallest manager, a little Philadelphia bunchback named Hughy McLoon.

Poor little Hughy was "knocked off" in Philadelphia recently, probably by accident. He was with a couple of chaps, and one of them was obnoxious to some of the "canvas" of the Philadelphia underworld.

So they "gave it to him" as the saying is, with a machine gun out of an automobile, but they also got Hughy, who hadn't an enemy in the world.

Ralph would have been a great fighter but for an accident early in his career. He was a city fireman in Los Angeles and the truck on which he was working swung into a water plug going to a fire, wrecking the young giant completely.

He was in a hospital for months and emerged a living skeleton. He was a great amateur heavy, and when he turned professional many thought he was bound to become champion of the world. After the accident he couldn't take a punch, but his heart kept him going through many a desperate struggle.

Italian Jack Herman, who is also serving as sparring partner to Dempsey, once fought Tunney out in Kansas City.

He was knocked out 'mid a general lifting of eyebrows among the scientica of the Sour Science, but that's forgotten history now. Italian Jack has worked with Dempsey before, I believe.

IN the course of his pugilistic career, Dempsey has probably used more and better sparring partners than any fighter that ever lived. The Dempsey camp always paid big salaries for men that it wanted.

When he was just coming into the heavyweight picture as a contender, Dempsey had such mates as Jamaica Kid and Big Bill Tate, then pretty good fighters on their own account.

Later he had Jack Malone, Larry Williams, Marty Farrell, Marty Cutler, George Godfrey, Jack Renault, Terry Kelley, Joe Benjamin, Babe Herman, Marty Burke, Tommy Loughran, Tillie Kid Herman, Jack Thompson, Jack Burke and a score of others.

Tunney confined himself to a very few sparring partners. They seemed to do him more good than Dempsey's big crews, if we may judge by the results.

But Tunney and Dempsey had different methods of training, or at least in boxing in training. Tunney worked with a view to the scientific side of the game, while Dempsey, essentially a slugger, was a rough-and-tumble fellow in his training camp.

WALTER HAGEN — JOHNNY FARRELL

WHAT A BATTLE THIS PAIR WILL PUT UP

Walter and Johnny are slated to play a series of matches on the links for the world pro title. Johnny Farrell, open champion, challenged the Haig to the contests. Walter, many times P. G. A. title holder, is a great man at match play. And Johnny of Quaker Ridge proved his worth in the open this year. Farrell has a very likeable manner. There isn't a bit of conceit in his makeup. And he always smiles, winning or losing. He's a great fighter.

Richards is returning to the United States soon. He also plans to take Kozeluh, who was coach of the British Davis Cup team, and several other European professionals on a tour of the United States this fall. They would compete in an American open tennis championship to be held after the national championships.

Tunney and Manager at Odds Over Spoils

New York, Aug. 17—The same atmosphere of profound solemnity that marked the departure of the Mauretania prevailed all day at Tunney's suite in the Hotel Biltmore and at the office of Billy Gibson, just around the corner.

At the Biltmore the social secretary and his secretary answered questions with vacant stares and no information. They professed to know nothing about anything. They hadn't heard, they really couldn't say, they were quite in the dark about this, that and the other thing.

At Gibson's office the staff sat about in silence, one of the boys saying that the bunch would have sent Gene some flowers if they could have found a florist.

The truth of the matter was that Gibson and Gene Tunney were down town closeted with their respective lawyers. It is said that they were battling over Gibson's cut on the half million or more dollars that Tunney was paid for demolishing Tom Heeney.

It was common talk in sporting circles up and down Broadway yesterday that the reward tendered to Gibson by the champion was so small that Bill returned it.

EAST-WEST NET PLAY STARTS

New York, Aug. 17 (AP)—With Big Bill Tilden and Francis Hunter, the two highest ranking players in the United States, missing from the Eastern team, the West hopes to improve its record in the annual East-West tennis matches at the West side Tennis Club, Forest Hills, L. I., today and tomorrow. Only once since 1924 and four times altogether have the Western racquet wielders taken the measure of the Easterners.

The absence of Tilden and Hunter from the lineup may lessen the drawing power of the matches, but it increases the prospect of close and interesting struggles. John van Ryn, young Princeton player, is No. 1 man on the East team, while George Lott heads the Western aggregation.

Although Tilden and Hunter are missing, the two young players who eliminated them from the Eastern championship at Rye Wednesday, both will appear today. Fritz Mercur, who defeated Tilden, opens the series in a singles match with Nell Brown of San Francisco, while Berkeley Bell, young Texan, who put Hunter out of the running only to suffer the same fate himself yesterday, appears in the doubles paired with Alan Herrington against Van Ryn and Dr. George Kleg.

16 PAIRS IN FOURTH ROUND

Eight Teams Left After Play Today for Finals Tomorrow

By BILL GRIMES

ESSEX County Club, Manchester, Mass., Aug. 17—With the strength about equally divided between the upper and lower halves the fourth round of the annual Essex County Club four-ball invitation started this morning.

As was the case in the preceeding round, the opening match promises to be one of the best of the day. Mel Merritt and Arnold Brundage are playing Ray Gorton and Paul Sanborn.

Merritt and Brundage came through in fine style against their opponents from Salem. Joe Batchelder and A. S. Hovnak Jr. Merritt and Brundage were trailing two holes at the 12th but had the match squared at the 16th, only to drop the 17th on which Batchelder aneted a four at the 17th.

MERRITT came through with a par at the 18th, which won the hole and evened the match, for Batchelder took a trio of putts and Browne missed a short one. On the extra hole, Brundage got his four and it was all over.

Paul Sanborn has been one of the surprises of the tournament. He has a 12 handicap and has been doing more than his share of the winning, having been in the low 80's in each of his rounds.

Gorton and Sanborn had a narrow escape in their match with George Willett and E. D. Fullerton, sneaking in with a one up victory.

Willett went solid over on the back holes coming through with a 39 on the 9's, which were three holes and squared the battle. Sanborn won the 16th with a stroke and another by Willett and Fullerton fought right through to the home hole they were unable to overtake their opponents.

Although Ray Gorton must give Merritt three strokes and Brundage seven, the Salem combination met spot a total of ten strokes. From the golf Merritt has been shooting recently, he should give Gorton a fight and the result of this match will depend on a large measure on Brundage and Sanborn, which is a stand-off.

H. R. Townsend, of The Country Club, and H. E. Hussey from St. Louis, will get eight strokes from Harry Snelling and Gerald Henderson. They have their work cut out for this morning.

SNELLING and Henderson rank 1-2 with the strongest combine left in the championship flight event. The Weston pair had the call.

W. W. Cutler and W. B. Snow is another team, which has caused much comment because of the calibre of their home form. Cutler and Snow ran Dr. G. C. Caner and Frederick T. Fuessler, Jr., out of the tournament 4 and 3, but they would have still won if they had been playing on a scratch basis.

MARION IN CAPE COD GOLF TIE

Buzzards Bay, Aug. 17—Scoring 2½ second victory of the week over Wianno, Marion climbed into a first-place deadlock with the former combination in Cape Cod Women's Golf League.

After winning at Wianno, 6 to 1, Monday, the Marion players returned to Kittansett, their home course, and registered a 3½ to 2½ decision over the same opponents.

In the other two matches the results were opposite from Monday's Pocasset visited Hyannisport and came away with a 4-to-1 victory, while Woods Hole turned back Plymouth, 4 to 2, at home. From all courses fine scoring was reported.

In one foursome at Hyannisport all four players had medal scores under 99. Miss Hilda Williams was the lead with an 84.

Mrs. W. D. Arnold had an 85, and both Mrs. John Parkinson and Miss Pope were 88.

Mrs. H. R. Watson's 92 was the best at Mittanett, while over at Woods Hole, Mrs. W. C. Quimby shot an 86.

Tilden Has Good Chance to Beat U. S. L. T. A. Charges

ARTICLES WRITTEN GRATIS

Tennis Board Must Prove Tilden Was Paid for Articles

By DAVIS J. WALSH
I. N. S. Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 17—It began to look today as though Mr. Will Tilden is not as smart as some people think he is. He's smarter.

Will, they say, has found a way to "beat his case" when he comes up before the executive committee of the U. S. L. T. A. one week tonight, and to a man on a limb the idea seems foolproof.

It is understood that no issue's been paid to date for the disputed articles at Wimbledon. According to Wallace Merrihew, editor of American Lawn Tennis, one of those who drafted the player-writer rule and a die-hard friend of Will's, he is likely to be very careful not to be paid for them, either now or forever henceforth.

The rule specifically states that a violation, to be a violation, must be "for pay or consideration."

"It wouldn't surprise me in the least if Tilden refused to accept money or any other consideration for the articles that are under fire," Merrihew declared. "I know personally that he received neither money nor consideration while he was abroad, and I am just as certain that he has received neither since his return. I feel I can also say for him that he has no intention of specifying any claims he proposes anything at any time for the articles he wrote while abroad."

This statement was confirmed more or less at the office of Tilden's counsel, Moses Herzog, who declared that they had neither heard from Tilden except for the receipt of the articles he wrote in England and parted with him in any way since he left America.

Tilden's defense next week thus can take either of two courses, or both. He can frankly admit he received pay, or contend on that count he can calmly inform any who may be interested that the rule couldn't have been violated, either in spirit or in fact, because the articles were written free, gratis and for the asserting fun of it.

Call this evasion if you like; it doesn't alter the fact that the rule is quite clear in the matter of stating that guilt only follows when pay or consideration is involved.

BIG ENTRY LIST AT COHASSET

Cohasset's third annual horse show will open this morning at 10 o'clock and will continue through tomorrow afternoon.

Entered into a two-day affair, it has proven its popularity to the horse show enthusiasts of this vicinity by its doubling since the number of entries it did a year ago.

Jumpers and hunters dominate the classy prospects. For the 13 events for these horses, some 200 entries have been received.

Competition in these classes will bring together the finest hunters in this section. The course is 200 yards long and includes six testing barriers.

Today's program of 19 classes is more restricted than tomorrow's. It includes children's riding competitions and events which especially interest the Cohasset exhibitors. More than 100 entries in these events have been received. Tomorrow's list, on the other hand, will bring out 311 competitors.

One of today's features is the jumping competition for boys and children under 15. Among the well-known youngsters entered are Fred H. Tolman, Jr., Jon Harding, Jane Bancroft and Marjorie Kimpton.

Lighter Ball Will Aid Duffer

By JOHNNY FARRELL
American Open Champion

I understand from cables abroad that the British finally have agreed with the United States Golf Association in the proposal for a larger and lighter golf ball.

It was bound to happen sooner or later and, I think, for the best interests of all concerned. The present jack-rabbit ball has been rather a source of joy for the duffer and skilled player alike because it can be walloped a mile or more.

It is doomed; in the interest of economy, to be supplanted by a ball whose dimensions are calculated to cut down length only slightly.

Reasons for the introduction of a ball of this sort are obvious and more than three-fold. Where not long ago championships were held on courses that measured no more than 6250 to 6400 yards, present championship courses demand a calibre of 6800 to 7000 yards.

In their creation these great courses require more real estate and acreage is a costly item. They need more care and attention for they usually have two or three sets of tees, one for the women, one for the average player and another for tournament play. They demand constant upkeep and the bills the country clubs have to meet shock even men of wealth.

MANY courses throughout the country have had to be remodeled and lengthened at vast expense to meet the exigencies of the present ball.

Personally I think the new ball will be a boon to all golfers. It will remove the tendency to slug and place a premium on skill. I really believe it will help the so-called duffer, the man who is struggling for advancement.

The larger ball will be easier to hit and he probably will be able to control it better. From the tees he will not be as long but around and on the greens he should become more efficient.

The present ball has been a troublesome object for the poor player. In the first place a poorly hit shot, or topped ball, runs along the ground for a long distance and makes the player rather indifferent as to whether he gets it into the air or not, so long as he keeps it straight.

HOW often have you seen a player make an unlovely looking topped drive and get as much length as his opponent who has hit a clean shot? He will not be able to do this with a larger ball and this will be good for him. He will pay more attention to correct hitting.

Except to cut down drives probably from fifteen to twenty yards I do not believe that the professional game will be greatly affected by the proposed ball. The pro will be called upon to play his longer irons and woods more often through the fairways, but his putting will improve.

The professionals, however, will have their ability tested when the winds are strong because a larger and lighter ball, if it is not hit straight, will cut queer capers in a blow.

However there is no gainsaying the fact that skill and not slugging will win the laurel sprays when the old ball gives way to the new.

FAST FIELD IN BOL D'OR RACE TOMORROW

Another classic bike event is carded for tomorrow night at the Revere Cycle Track, when Nat Butler stages the annual 50 mile motor paced Bol d'Or race. Seven riders, as many as can ride with safety on the beach oval at one time, are entered.

Topping the starters will be Frankie Keenan, who rode so sensationally Wednesday night to win the Wiley cup race; George Chapman, who pressed Keenan hard near the end and won second place; Vincent Madonna, the Italian; Dan Piccolone, another Italian; Larry Gaffney, New York; Theodore Wynsdau, Belgium, and Francesco Zucchetti, Italy, winner of the championship race last week and the big Golden Wheel three weeks ago.

Theodore Wynsdau, not listed at first to ride, has replaced his brother Henri.

Keenan and Chapman are expected to again battle for first place, as each is riding in his best form. A duel such as they staged Wednesday in the closing minutes of the race is looked for.

A sparkling sprint race has been arranged as a semifinal. Tony Beckman, winner of the six-day race in Boston two years ago; Harris Horder, American sprint champion, and Pierre Guyot, French titlist, will compete in this contest. It will be run in three one-mile heats, points to decide the winner.

Nat Butler has also booked other preliminary amateur and professional races.

GREAT FLEET AT REGATTA

The Eastern Yacht Club's annual regatta was sailed off Marblehead with the greatest fleet in history. The event brought out 55 yachts over 30 foot waterline to form one of the greatest fleets ever to compete on Massachusetts bay. The race was sailed in light southerly breezes over a 23-mile triangle.

The feature of the racing was the showing of the famous little Marblehead class Q, one of the smallest classes eligible for the famous Puritan cup. It was one of their number Isaac R. Edmands' Norn that captured the historic trophy which the America's cup defender, Puritan, first won off Marblehead 42 summers ago.

Not only did the Norn win the cup, but three other members of her class, B. Devereux Barker's Hornet, Grafton Smith's Nor'easter V, and John G. Alden's Tartar finished in the next three places in the standing for the Puritan cup, which goes to the yacht of the Eastern Yacht Club making the fastest corrected time over the course in the annual regatta.

It was Harry Payne Whitney's schooner Vanitie that led the big fleet over the long course and crossed the finish line just after 1:30. The Vanitie was barely able to save her time allowance on former cup defender, Resolute.

But soon after the other boats commenced to reach the line and it was apparent that many of the seven boats would defeat the biggest craft for the principal prize of the day.

When the yachts sailed out of Marblehead harbor in the middle of the forenoon for the banner event of large craft on Massachusetts bay early, one of the finest attended fleets in Massachusetts yachting history was present.

Only the long remembered race between the Volunteer and the Mayflower, back in the dim 80s, and some of the German-American sonder class matches before the great war ever brought out a fleet comparable in it, according to the enthusiasts of the game.

N. E. SWIM MEET AT SALEM

Three New England A. A. A. U. swimming titles will be settled in the third annual meet at Salem Willows Park, under the auspices of the city of Salem park department, in conjunction with the N. S. A. A. A. U. swimming committee and the Boston Swimming Association.

For the men, the senior and junior 100-yard free-style championships are the outstanding events, while for the women the junior 150-yard free-style, championship is drawing main interest.

More than 75 entries have been received, indicating it will be the largest meet here outside of Boston this season.

Frank Grant of Worcester will defend his 100-yard senior title, but what makes the event interesting is the fact that Carl Tammi, also of Worcester, who recently beat Grant in the N. E. 220-yard championship race, is also entered.

William Lynch and George Chinsey of the Boys' Club are other leading entrants.

Twenty-four aspirants will make a bid for the junior 100-yard crown, including among others, James Redgate and James Toomey of the Boys' Club; John Jarosh of the B. S. A. and M. I. T.; James Kenney, also of the B. S. A.; Herman Magnuson of Providence, and Clayton Hardon of Providence.

The other men's event on the program is the 100-yard free-style for the championship of Essex county. Then there will be a 100-yard breast stroke swim, a 50-yard novice swim and a 100-yard backstroke swim for women.

Nearly 30 entries have been received by Win Marling for the women's races alone.

Dilboy Entries Must Be Sent in Early

Amateur boxers desiring to compete in the Dilboy Post tournament, being held next Wednesday night, at Dilboy Field, Somerville, should forward their entries at once to the headquarters of the organization, located in the Knights of Columbus building, Highland Ave., Somerville.

Unfortunately, many of those who were late in entering for the past shows, were denied the right to compete owing to the large number already entered and the necessity of limiting the number in each class, in order to decide the winners by midnight.

Competition will be in the following five open classes 112, 118, 126, 135 pounds and heavyweights.

16—Frank Andrews, L. McClair	6-1

Chicago Team at Fenway for Three Game Series

ED MORRIS TO START FOR SOX

Invaders Have Staged Great Spurt for Blackburn, New Manager

By NICK FLATLEY

LENA BLACKBURN and his surprising Chicago White Sox invaded Boston today, their eyes filled with more or less fire. The Chi Sox, who have surged from the cellar up into the first division since Lena took hold of them, were pushed back into fifth place by Cleveland yesterday.

Lena's Crowd don't like that sort of thing. Under the guidance of their new manager they have become a bunch of flaming outlaws. They are now tied for fighting spirit with the Yanks in the league. This helped to drop the Yanks out in Chicago when the champs started the big show and they never won two out of three games.

Nick Flatley

They linger here for three days and as many games, winding up Monday. Last time they were here, Lena had not taken over the job. The Sox were fighting for fifth place at the time and the Western visitors lost three out of four games. Since then they have had four out of five games. The latter games haven't counted in the league set.

MANAGER LENA doesn't take any credit for his club's performance.

"It's been a tough start, but we're going," Ted Lyons was declaring. "Some children get going faster than others, and Saturday everybody was down. When I was young the Cubs were good and I was slow, and then the boys began to hit. That's the game.

"The White Sox are a first division team now. They have enough class to hold their own with any club. They've been going and if something doesn't go wrong they'll surely land third place.

"We'd like to win three here, but we don't know what's going to happen and I'm not sick, even when I'm losing."

BIG ED MORRIS will try to win the first game this p. m. Ed would be rated as one of the best pitchers in the league, and is also fast enough with it to be a hard hitter, as he's been proving since Monday. Lena's men are to follow Morris with Lyons and Hasty Thurston, who will be in the box for the second game. Carrigan will work the third game.

Manager William has shaken up the outfield order and Bill Hallahan, veteran southpaw, will be given a chance to show what he can do with the Sox. Hallahan was with the Cubs when they won the pennant in 1918 after being a regular. Hafey had been ordered in to the game a few days ago.

Chicago has a hit, run and fielding team this year. Only Philadelphia has been batting more runs per game. Sunny Jim Dykes was handed a five run lead, but lost his job as he melted in the pinch.

Jack Richardson, who has the one bright spot in pitching staff, has been out with a sore arm for a week and done a good job. He has won 10 and lost five. Lewis is the youngster and Jones is a veteran.

THE weekend game will be dedicated to Jill Bryett of Cambridge, who passed on the Wisconsin assembly in the Sox. Jill is a baseball fan and has been rooting for the Sox all year.

There will be the usual band and presentation and a few extra stunts put on besides. A set of cushions will be awarded to the fastest scorer of the day's game. The prize was won over a hundred and eighty-two by Rebecca Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Wolf, 1 Hancock st., Dorchester. Miss Wolf is a member of the Young Scorers Bureau and is a regular attendant at the games. She has made herself right into the box score.

Schooner-Cruz Tilt at Salem Tonight

Francisco Cruz, heavyweight champion of Portugal, will make his New England debut in the North at Rockaway Park, Salem, tonight, when he battles Al Schooner, popular young Hartford heavyweight, in the 10 round feature bout of the Salem A. A. Cruz has a slight favorite in the betting, but Schooner has shown such improvement in his recent career that many think he will have the edge.

Two preliminary bouts, one between Jimmy Hoffer and Jimmy Hoffer, both of Salem, and the other between Jimmy Hoffer and Jimmy Hoffer, both of Salem, will complete the card.

BRISCOE WILL DEFEND TITLE IN N. H. AUG. 20

Jimmy Briscoe, featherweight champion of New Hampshire, will defend that title on Aug. 20 at Seacoast Park, N. H. Briscoe will take on Eddie Morin of Manchester in a 10-round bout under the auspices of the Keene Welfare Boxing Club.

In the semi-final bout of the show, Raymond Cote of Lewiston, Me., will be pitted against Spike Hennessy of Waltham.

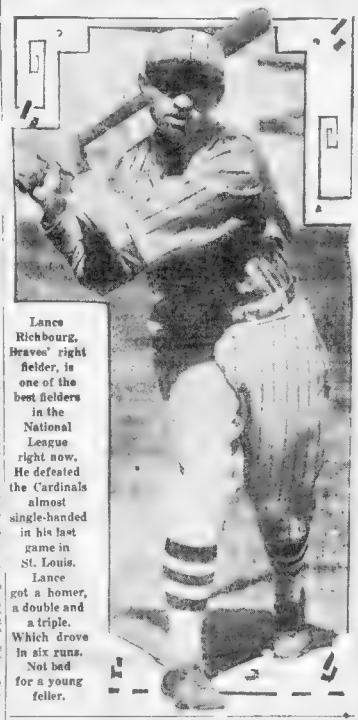
SMACKS 'EM ON THE NOSE



Lance Richbourg, Braves' right fielder, is one of the best fielders in the National League right now. He defeated the Cardinals almost single-handed in his last game in St. Louis. Lance got a homer, a double and a triple. Which drove in six runs. Not bad for a young feller.

IRISH-BADGER GAME EARLY

Madison, Wis., Aug. 17—With the annual football season only a few weeks away, the spotlight of sport-lovers will be turned on the Wisconsin assembly in the Sox. Jill is a baseball fan and has been rooting for the Sox all year.

There will be the usual band and presentation and a few extra stunts put on besides. A set of cushions will be awarded to the fastest scorer of the day's game. The prize was won over a hundred and eighty-two by Rebecca Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Wolf, 1 Hancock st., Dorchester. LEWIS-FLYNN BOUT DRAWS FIGHT FANS

Hub flatin followers will be given the opportunity Tuesday night of seeing a real fistic battle when Lewis of England comes here to face Jackie Flynn, Lawrence welterweight, in one of the headliners of a double-header feature.

In the other bout Jack Gibson of New Bedford, lightweight, will box Eddie Hamilton, Lowell, in a bout which should be a real fistic battle.

Another man is regarded as very capable of giving Lewis a real fight. He is Young Jack Britton, a first-rate boxer and possibly a real crowd pleaser. Lewis will be on hand to welcome him.

Lewis is by far the most popular fighter ever sent here from the British Empire. In fact, Lewis is one of the few Britishers who has proved his ability in matches against the foremost of this country.

LEWIS IS GOOD

Even in the days when Lewis won the welterweight crown from Jack Britton, his ability was recognized and now that he has grown into a middleweight he has been working through the ranks of opponents to be one of a crowding right hand punch which he expects to win for him against Flynn.

Flynn, however, a tremendous hitter is ready to trade wallops with Lewis, when they step into the ring and Lewis supporters admit that Hub fans will get their full share of hard fighting.

Lewis will not be satisfied unless he has stopped Flynn, and Flynn is not likely to be satisfied unless he has stopped Lewis.

It will be an opportunity for a real fistic battle when these two boys step into the ring and it is the most unusual match of the year, of course with three extra rounds.

FAST PRELIMS SLATED

Two bouts of the North End Athletic Club will precede the main event. Jack Britton is to make a ten rounder against Young Sparks, Lowell, and Eddie Hamilton, Lowell, will box Eddie Hamilton, Lowell.

In the opening bout, Eddie Hamilton, Lowell, will box Eddie Hamilton, Lowell.

Tickets may be procured at the Court st.

Frank Erne Gets Win Over Morrison

John Hinton, Lynn, knocked out Tim Lahey, Lynn, in the first round of their bout. Young Hinton, Lynn, knocked out Al Brady, Everett, in three rounds.

JUST what happened when You Took a Hand at playing the Market!

WHILE Wall Street professionals were anxiously waiting for loan reports and Federal reserve discount rates—while twenty million people were building up Wall Street to its record-breaking five million share days—Cosmopolitan got a trained writer, who is also a successful amateur speculator, to tell about his own experiences in the market so that you might see exactly what happens to your dollar when you start it rolling in there . . . either to multiply miraculously or to disappear altogether.

Don't miss Fred C. Kelly's inside story of Wall Street operations, in September Cosmopolitan. Written for the amateur by a successful amateur, it is another example of the alert editorial spirit that has attracted to Cosmopolitan the largest audience of intelligent, discriminating readers in America.

A Remarkable Mystery Novel

"ENTER SIR JOHN," the mysterious story of an innocent murderess, was written by Clemence Dane—who wrote that famous play "A Bill of Divorcement"—in collaboration with Helen Simpson, whose new novel, "Cups, Wands and Swords," has created a sensation throughout England. It is typical again of Cosmopolitan's alert and progressive editorial policy that this mystery novel should appear in Cosmopolitan even before Miss Simpson's great novel has become known here.

CLEMENCE DANE

Fannie Hurst . . . writes a story of a romantic revolt against the Hossie-Frossie.

P. G. Wodehouse . . . tells the love story of a flat tire—London's champion saphead.

Irvin S. Cobb . . . writes an epic of heroism and tragedy on a flood-mad river.

Maurine Watkins . . . tells how Life played a bitter joke on a pretty girl.

Dr. Joseph Collins . . . sounds a warning to mothers who weaken their children's characters by loving them too much.

Michael Arlen . . . writes a novel of a good woman—an even better novel than "The Green Hat."

Ring W. Lardner . . . tells the story of a small town gas company clerk who aspired to be a poet.

P. C. Wren . . . relates a grim story of Poland under the Cossacks.

Peter B. Kyne . . . writes a story of a soldier and his dog in the World War.

OTHER stories, novels and outstanding features by Robert Hichens, Faith Baldwin, Sir Philip Gibbs, Montague Glass, Allan Swinton, Meade Minnigerode, Royal Brown, Harold Dearden, O. O. McIntyre, Edgar Lee Masters, A. S. M. Hutchinson, Gluyas Williams, Fish and Charles Dana Gibson.

ONCE-OVERS

By J. J. MUNDY.

IT is the little thoughtful things you do as you go on down through life that count the most.

Waiting for an opportunity to do something big and unusual in its nature is not a good policy.

In the first place, you may not be able to do big things.

And again you may not have an opportunity.

Perhaps you think because you have so little money that it is impossible for you to do anything worthwhile for anyone.

But some of the most appreciated courtesies are personal matters.

Things that demonstrate a spirit willing, nay eager, to brighten the lives of people.

You think the little you could do is insignificant.

But someone is needing just the kindness you could give.

Perhaps in your own household there are those who are suffering for a kindly word and you are so busy pitying yourself that you don't give it.

If you wait for something big in the way of charity and kindness you will rob yourself of much pleasure and others of attention they would appreciate.

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS—

BY HELEN ROWLAND

MY Son, strange and wondrous are the ways of women.

And he that thinketh to translate their moods and foretell their doings by a simple rule is as one that seeketh to read the secrets of the stars through an opera glass.

For men are as a row of suburban bungalows. To have known one man well, is to know all men by heart.

But women are as the Yale lock. No two of them are alike, but each a different combination, with a different key.

For, verily, the effect of the moon upon the tide is no more mystifying nor unaccountable than the effect of love upon a woman. She that was more artless than a babe, becometh suddenly a cross-word puzzle, full of surprises, complexes and subtlety.

And from each woman in his life a man learneth something NEW!

Lo, one woman sigheth to know HOW to make a man love her, and bewaileth the lost power of spells and love-potions.

And another woman seeketh to know how to choose among the many men who love her and bewaileth only her own vacillation.

One woman loveth a man because he is strong and inflexible, and permitteth her to lean upon him, and another loveth a man because he is weak and helpless and permitteth her to mother him.

One woman preferreth a man whom she can bully and torment and make her slave. And another preferreth a man who can browbeat her and make her "suffer."

One woman yearneth to sacrifice herself and all her desires for the man she loveth. And another preferreth to sacrifice her lover for her whim and desires.

But, today, yesterday and forever, the reason why a woman loveth any man is because, in her heart, she knoweth that he loveth HER.

The sheik hath said, "Go to, I understand all women!"

But, verily, verily, he that understandeth all the complexes of ONE woman, knoweth as much as it is given unto any man to KNOW in a lifetime!

Do Employers Play Fair? $10,000-a-Year Man Replies

By B. C. FORBES

New York, Aug. 17—As ex-office boy of very moderate education, who has climbed in 29 years of industrial effort to the $10,000-a-year class, sends his reply to the question recently raised here, "Do Employers Play Fair?" Is it not important both to employers and employes that sounds, sensible ideas should exist on a subject of such wide-spread interest and basic importance?

B. C. Forbes

The answer sent by George A. Lilly, now holding an executive position in Detroit, follows:

"Do employers play fair? Are most of them ready to recognize and encourage talent? I would answer, 'Yes,' and after you read my reasons I believe you will be inclined to feel that they do.

"I am an executive in the $10,000 class, 41 years of age, with 29 years of hard work behind me. Possibly some might say that I have not progressed as fast as I might have, but I am inclined to believes that one who has gone through all I have, and can point to a fairly responsible executive position with such compensation, has proceeded fairly well along the road of accomplishment.

"Starting at the age of 12, just 29 years ago, as a push boy in a Kansas City dry goods store, I progressed through the jobs of wagon boy, then office boy and order clerk in two of Kansas City's large packing houses, eight and one-half years in a large house furnishing concern, and then from there in 1911 on to the present time in a succession of locations, both as an office man and in the selling line.

"In all of these years I have found that the employer is inclined to be fair, but, on account of the attitude of the employe, he is constantly on the defensive. I am exceedingly grateful for the fact that there is one thing left only of my disposition, and that is envy.

"My education has been obtained in much the same manner that Topsy reached maturity—'I just got it.'

"Having been through the mill from that of the lowliest office boy, I have had excellent opportunity to observe the mental processes of the average person, and in the majority it is the attitude, that because one does not progress as fast as he thinks he should, the boss has it in for him. Not always true, but if it was progressing as fast as I should.

"In a case of this sort I analyzed the situation, and if I was satisfied that I could not progress, I frankly discussed the situation with my employer, and made it a point to not fly anything good from a friend. I did not go out looking for it. Thus I have found that merit always obtains recognition.

"There are two axioms which I learned in this life, 'Work for the man who never does any more than he gets paid for never gets paid for any more than he does,' and the second one is, 'Don't antagonize the boss.'

"Having been a student of history, I have had always in mind the goal of accomplishing something to whatever line of endeavor I might be that would, in a way, measure up to the accomplishment of some of those real men who, in face of adversity of every type, made a success in life.

"I am inclined to become a bit peeved by this constant clatter toward the employer. Because of any work I have had the opportunity to observe the attitude of employers in different lines, and when one gets to know these men personally one finds that they are human—but, as I said, they are continually on the defensive. Why? Because there is being radiated, constantly, a feeling of antagonism by the employe who is inclined to set his misguided and ignorant opinion above that of him who is better able to judge.

NEW ENGLAND'S NEW BUILDING INCREASES

By FRANK H. MELOON
Financial Editor

Construction, one of the most important "key" industries, is running at high figures. New building operations in New England, as measured by contracts awarded and reported to me today by F. W. Dodge Corp., for the week ended Aug. 16 totaled $19,228,200. This compares with the weekly average for 1928 to date of $9,427,400. Only three previous years in all history have seen this figure equalled for the week reported.

* * *

Among our visitors today was Dr. Julius Klein, director of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. Dr. Klein is no stranger to Boston, as he was formerly professor of history, and has several times addressed leading organizations in fields of business and finance in this city. Dr. Klein and his staff have solved thousands of trade problems for New England firms, with services in continuous demand.

* * *

Despite critics and faultfinders, it is fairly obvious that the United States administration has considerably improved. American merchant marine is operated under considerable handicaps. Despite some of these it would not be difficult to refute Frank C. Munson, president of the Munson Steamship Line, who declares American transportation is today in a healthier condition than in many years. Except for betterment, he says the merchant marine has begun already to feel effects of the Jones-White act enacted for their benefit—and the general benefit—last spring.

Frank C. Munson

* * *

President Munson feels industry and agriculture will both benefit considerably from proper development in the shipping situation. He regards the mail contract features of the Jones-White act as especially broad and constructive. Postmaster General New wins President Munson's praise for his part in drafting this act. If Congress had received as amply the postmaster general's views regarding the postal service the deficits from a financial standpoint would have been much improved.

* * *

Directors of Eastern Steamship Company today voted to issue 25,000 shares of stock at $65 a share, on a subscription basis, to common stockholders. The issue is underwritten by Hayden Stone & Co., who are represented on the board of directors.

Another outstanding "chain store" adds itself to the long list treating stockholders as real customers considerately. Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. of America declares a quarterly dividend of $1 on common, placing stock on $4 annual basis, omitting previously paid extra, and title quarterly dividend of $1.75 on preferred, both payable Sept. 1 to stock of record Aug. 24.

New York, Aug. 17—Curb market today was strong generally higher in active buying. Dantzig Corporation jumped 2 3/8 to 11¾, Seaboard Corporation gained ⅝ to 14⅝. Bliss was up ½ at 26⅝ and United Gas & Improvement up ⅝ at 104⅝.

DEVIL'S ISLAND FILM IS NEXT FOR COLMAN

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS,
Universal Service Motion Picture Editor

(copyright, 1928, by Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17—What's the official name of that French prison in French Guiana where Captain Dreyfus spent so many weary months? Doesn't matter, only it is the locale of Ronald Colman's next picture. "Condemned on Devil's Island." With Vilma Banky making her return to the screen and the blase, cold Colman turned loose without romance, Samuel Goldwyn just had to rake up some sympathy for his prize male star.

Goldwyn thinks he has sympathy and a few more things in "Condemned on Devil's Island," the recent book by Blair Niles. When it flashes forth in electric lights, it will just carry the words "Condemned." By the bye, Colman, who grows more and more aloof each day, will have a double in "Condemned" as soon as his finished "The Rescue." Assume that Ina Dmitta, Sam's French gift to Hollywood, will support Colman, but no one seems positive on that point.

THE NAME of Tearle is as much associated with the stage and screen as that of Barrymore. We have Conway Tearle, Godfrey Tearle, stage star, and now let me present David Tearle, a baby boy who will play an important part in "The Office Scandal." Conrad Nagel and Lewis Stone will direct. Phyllis Haver is in this scandal too.

I assume she is the reason for all the gossip. Phyllis is usually the reason men leave home—in the films of course.

There is talk that George Duryea will play the lead. Watch me cast him too. He is probably the male lead, husband or youth who is vamped by Phyllis. Pathe can send denial to the office. I am broadminded. E. H. Griffith will direct.

WARNER BROTHERS are making money so fast they just don't know what to do with the bankroll. Vitaphone is certainly taking in the dough-re-mi. Fortunately for Warners, they were in the market first and were able to make headway with their sound process.

So sure are they of the continuation of the Vitaphone profits, they have taken over the Winter Garden in New York for movies. "The Singing Fool" opens there the end of September. Al Jolson who travels East to begin work on his new play, "Wonder Bar," will stop in Manhattan at the time this picture opens. Al is thoroughly sold on the movies.

He talks just like a native these days, using California as his climate and all the familiar conversation quips.

HAROLD LLOYD'S fine new tan, acquired at the beach where he and Mildred and Gloria have been living, while building at the new home, should go great in the new picture. Butterfly-chasers who romp in the sun are tanned, aren't they? Yes, ma'am. Yes, indeed, they are.

Also he gives as his opinion that pictures to be successful three days must have some sound. He said, Ted Wilde will direct it. His talking days is still undiscovered. Harold, you remember, always discovers a new leading lady for each of his comedies.

* * *

PIECES of news of interest to those who read their film titbits with their coffee is that Luther Reed, formerly one of Paramount's directors, has signed to write for the exalted position of supervisor, by Fox. I suspect it is Luther's knowledge of cats that brought him this nice little berth.

RASKOB, DU PONTS AND FISHERS IN NEW BANK

New bank is being formed in Wall Street. Organizers of the new institution are understood to be prominent in large American industrial enterprises and on the roster of the Democratic Party. Names are known in Wall Street discussions include John J. Raskob, William A. Kenny, Fred Hasler, A. J. Drexel Biddle, Fisher brothers and some of the du Pont family. Unofficial reports place capitalization of the bank at around $50,000,000.

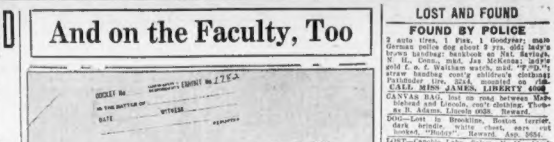
And on the Faculty, Too



February 28, 1926.

Mr. John S. Parker, Chairman,
Corporation Committee,
Public Utilities,
Brooklyn, New York.

My dear Mr. Parker:

At present, Mr. Wolfe is devoting part of his time to making a survey of all text books used in the high schools of Colorado, to determine which demonstrate unfair bias in favor of public utility subjects. In this work he has succeeded in obtaining the assistance of the University librarian.

Mr. Wolfe also is assisting in the compilation of a series of more than 100 lessons comprising a correspondence course in public utility economics, recently launched by the University of Colorado upon the efficacy of which Mr. Wolfe has very definite views. The course has 24 public utility managers executives as members of the University faculty, and Mr. Wolfe is collaborating with each in the preparation of the entire major subjects covered. The subjects treated, each having from 12 to 15 lessons, are: "Elements of Public Utilities," "Valuation," "Rate Making," "Depreciation," "Financing," "Management," "Engineering Problems," and "Accounting."

We believe that other institutions of higher education is this region will emulate the University of Colorado in this respect. We are certain that we have established a contact which has not yet presented itself with other universities and colleges now follow with our favor or favor.

Very truly yours,

Executive Manager.

Enc.

In the letter reproduced above George E. Lewis, executive manager of the Rocky Mountain Committee on Public Utility Information, explains some of the activities of Hubert Wolfe, research associate at the University of Colorado, half of whose salary is paid by Lewis' organization.

Lewis here states that Wolfe is making a survey of text books used in the high schools of Colorado. In other States such a survey was followed by removal of the offending text books. In the above letter, written February 25, 1926, to John C. Parker, chairman of the Committee on Co-operation with Educational Institutions of the National Electric Light Association, reads in part:

"We now have 24 public utility company executives as members of the university faculty.

"We believe that other institutions of higher education in this region will emulate the University of Colorado in this respect."

(This letter was introduced into the Federal Trade Commission hearings on May 31.)

TRUST FOUGHT WOMEN'S LIGHT RATES PROBE

By M. L. RAMSAY.

Washington, Aug. 17 — Electric power and light companies set powerful machinery in motion to defeat a study of rates by the federal trade commission, it appears, in all data on costs and charges for current, Federal Trade Commission records show.

A sharp fight against the study was started in Missouri soon after the first telegraph bureau had moved to combat it in Michigan. J. B. Sheridan, Missouri commissioner, got a report last January on the league's activity from George F. Oxley, propaganda director for the National Electric Light Association in New York.

Oxley understood that Morris Llewellyn Cooke of Philadelphia, was to assemble the figures collected by the league, and informed Sheridan:

"He is not entirely sound in his views on public utilities, so you may expect that the report will be adverse, if his is the final say."

DENIED INFORMATION

Sheridan passed this along to J. E. Hillenmeyer, a St. Louis utility executive, who was handling the propaganda bureau's steering committee. Hillenmeyer told him to get out a letter to all electric utility members of the Missouri association, recommending that the bureau's name that they "ignore the questionnaire and do not fill it out or supply the information."

Sheridan replied:

"These recommendations coincide with our own ideas on the subject, and we have made provisions to put them into operation."

Information was also sent by Sheridan to the league, and informed Sheridan:

"It is not entirely sound in his views on public utilities, so you may expect that the report will be adverse, if his is the final say."

EDITORIAL PAGE OF THE BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN BOSTON, AUGUST 17, 1928

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON:
1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for honest public service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land, in order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND:
1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.
3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

Respect All Religions: Self-Seeking Politicians Court Danger Capitalizing Sectarian Prejudice

Senator Robinson, vice-presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket, in a recent utterance attacks the churches for their opposition to Smith on the prohibition question and defends Tammany Hall.

It is, perhaps, natural that a defence of Tammany Hall should include an attack on the churches, or on any temperance agencies, or moral agencies of any kind. The unfortunate part of Senator Robinson's utterance is the UNAMERICAN attempt to drag religious sects into politics.

What the sectarian private citizen may say or do does not particularly matter, although all efforts to excite religious antagonism are deplorable. What does matter is that a duly authorized and accredited standard-bearer of the Democratic party should attack religious sects and attempt to make political capital out of it.

Governor Smith's challenge to the Rev. Doctor Straton, and the Governor's insistence that this political debate be held in a church, have apparently the same UNAMERICAN purpose of making political capital out of religious prejudice.

THE HEARST PAPERS advise the candidates of both parties to leave religious sects and the representatives of religious sects alone in this campaign, and to make no attempts whatever to aggravate religious antagonisms.

Ministers, priests and rabbis should be respected and protected because of the sanctity of their calling. Even a little fanaticism on their part should be tolerated and condoned. It is, perhaps, a necessary part of their religious enthusiasm and devotion. Overzeal is an excusable fault in the clergy, but there is no place for fanaticism among public men, representatives of great parties seeking great offices at the hands of a liberal and enlightened citizenship.

Attacks on religious people or religious bodies by politicians, selfishly seeking office, can only react to the disadvantage and discredit of the politicians.

So if these politicians have not patriotism enough to consider the spirit of our institutions, and the welfare of our country, and the necessity of our people living in unity and harmony, perhaps these office-seekers will consider their own personal welfare and the injury that will accrue to them from their INJUDICIOUS and UNAMERICAN attempts to drag religion into politics.

Dancing at the Airport

Why Not?

One of the problems before the Mayor and those to whom Mr. Nichols is to entrust the immediate future of the Airport will be how to create a broad public interest in the project.

With the support of the City Council, His Honor the Mayor, he says, will make this the finest airport in the United States.

The Nichols plan is to begin at once the erection of a new entrance to the flying field and the building of two runways, each 2800 feet long. The Mayor would spend $125,000 on the project now and a like amount next year. In FIVE years, he believes, the Airport will be a "paying proposition."

The program is an ambitious one. How are these expenditures to be justified? In other words, how is a real public interest to be first stirred and then sustained?

ONE suggestion is that the Airport be made one of Boston's great amusement centers, where people can dance, dine and drink, within the limits of the law.

Captain C. B. D. Collyer, joint holder of the recent record for traveling around the world in twenty-three days, believes people are kept away from American airports by the "too business-like air of mere flying." He would get them accustomed to the ways of the air, help them to a high degree of air-mindedness, by bringing them to the flying field for the primary purpose of entertainment.

"Before we started our round-the-world trip I had heard a great deal about Templehof Field in Berlin and I had heard a great deal more about the interest of the German people in aviation and the large passenger business. I know the reason now for that interest and I do not think it is any exaggeration to say that the amount of passenger travel on German lines is directly due to the fact that Templehof is a fine entertainment center.

"There are large and attractive restaurants right on the field, places where it is possible to dine and dance of an evening and incidentally watch the airplane operations by night, which are an interesting spectacle in themselves.

"I cannot forget how all this differs from the treatment of the general public at the aviation fields in this country. Here visitors are made to feel that they are more or less in the way and that all they usually get for their interest and effort to learn something is a cinder in the eye and their clothes soiled by flying dust.

"After seeing the way in which Berlin converts this natural interest and the opportunity for public support into a direct benefit to aviation, I am convinced that we will not break down the hostility of the American people to aviation until we attack the problem in much the same way."

IS there "hostility" toward aviation here? Not in New England, where each succeeding week is marked by the opening of a new flying field or the announcement of a projected airport. Caribou in Northern Maine, richest potato town in the world, is the first town in the Pine Tree State to establish a "municipal" port. Walter J. Rich, Summer resident of Camden, contributes $10,000 toward a $100,000 field for Knox County. The flying field at Keene, New Hampshire, will be formally opened next month. Col. Henry Silsbee, 2d, Ira J. Haskell, Philip W. Blood, William J. Young and other progressive citizens of Lynn organize the Lynn Airport, Inc.

In these as in almost every other instance, however, the cause of aviation in this section of the country has been advanced by a comparatively few citizens, forward-looking men who appreciate the importance of the enterprise and who are not in it for "what they can get out of it."

The enthusiasm of a few self-sacrificing citizens, nevertheless, does not denote that sort of public interest, without which no Mayor and no city government can go far with such a program as Mayor Nichols designs for the 242 acres at East Boston.

The Mayor considers placing the Airport in the custody of the Board of Park Commissioners. The efficient chairman of that body may find a helpful suggestion in Captain Collyer's report on aviation in Germany and the reasons he gives for the popularity of Templehof.

What Says the Fan?

SHOULD the Pitcher Be Permitted to Pass the Batter at Will?

Big league umpires, in mid-season session, have suggested a few minor changes in baseball rules. On the biggest problem they were silent.

Should a pitcher be permitted to pass a batter at will, or should he be required to take his chances?

Here is a referendum that ought to go to the fans.

Imagination the Thing

Other Things Are Secondary

Dr. Brownwell, library adviser of Scribner & Co., for many years, and a good author on his own account, leaves behind him an excellent criticism of modern writing: "Everybody is clever nowadays, but our cleverness is apt to stop short of imagination."

Writing without IMAGINATION is like music without emotion or painting without color. And lack of imagination is the curse of modernism. If it had imagination it could not be so foolish.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

BY ALINE MICHAELS

WHAT is wisdom, dear? To know much of the passing show?
To be versed in worldly things though it bind the spirit's wings?
Is it wise to put aside loves and longings that have died and to leave without regret every one-time-honored debt? Would you have me thirst behind memories that cling and bind, riven out of hopes and fears through the seasons of years? This is wisdom, dear, to keep all the well loved thoughts that sleep hidden somewhere in your brain waiting like a song's refrain. Keep the joyousness that springs from all tender simple things; let no childlike trusting cease. This is wisdom; this is peace.

COOLIDGE AND THE CLOUD LEVELS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, talking to reporters, told them it is his intention to make regular pilgrimages to his old home in Vermont.

His purpose is to keep in touch with what the humble, average men and women of the country are thinking and feeling.

In Washington, he feels himself more or less isolated from common life and the opinions of common people.

There, "public opinion" tends to represent the ideas of the organized parts of society rather than those of the unorganized mass of voters.

Public opinion moves likes the clouds on a summer's day.

At different levels the air currents are moving in different directions.

Near the earth the clouds may be moving in one direction and higher up in another.

At times public opinion in one stratum advises one action: in another an opposite action.

The attitude of New York City or Chicago upon the question of prohibition is only the attitude of one stratum. It does not indicate the direction all the clouds of public opinion are moving.

The Chief Executive who carries on the business of his office most successfully is the one who watches the clouds at all levels and is not influenced entirely by the way one set is moving.

The opinions of the organized groups with which he is surrounded are like the clouds near the earth. They can be easily seen and often they obscure the ones higher up which may be getting in another direction.

These other clouds are the opinions of the unorganized mass of voters who express their ideas at election time.

The direction the majority of the clouds move should be the guiding factor in most presidential decisions. This is not always easy to determine. To achieve it he must examine all strata, and especially that on which the ideas of the common people, which are usually less easily perceived, move.

President Coolidge showed his wisdom in making his regular visits to the stratum in which common people live.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

CYNTHIA had been telling me how she manages her husband. Of course, she didn't put it in that crude way.

She just gently intimated that she "understood" her darling better than he did himself. And, naturally, knew what was best for him. And, of course, no wise woman let her man run around loose doing what he wanted to do. Etc., etc., etc.

In short, Cynthia has her Henry hog tied and muzzled.

Lots of wives glory in facts like that—but I always wonder why.

I can understand a yen to keep canaries—

Or a bowl of goldfish —

Or even a pet white rat—

But darned if I can understand what satisfaction an able-bodied woman gets out of a husband she has to manage. Particularly in these days when she can go out and grab herself off a job and associate with regular men.

If I want in for husbands at all I'd want a real one—

With a mind of his own—

And a program of his own—

And a lot of back talk.

I wouldn't want one I could yank around with a ring in his nose.

A HUSBAND, TO MY MIND, SHOULD BE A SELF-STARTER. And if he expected or permitted me to do the starting he'd certainly be out of luck.

PERSONALLY, I'D RATHER HAVE A TRAINED FLEA THAN A MANAGED HUSBAND.

I realize that my remarks are against all union rules. Since ladies first had husbands they were supposed to manage them.

A MANAGED HUSBAND IS JUST A SYNTHETIC MALE, WITH JUST ABOUT AS MUCH KICK TO HIM

AS A NICE, WARM GLASS OF FRESH MILK.

Moreover, I don't believe that any male worth giving house room was ever really managed. He might appear to be—but the lady was kidding herself.

YOU CAN KEEP A PUP DOLLED UP WITH A BLUE BOW AND FEED HIM CREAM SIX DAYS OF THE WEEK, BUT ON THE SEVENTH HE'LL SNEAK OUT, KILL THE NEIGHBOR'S CAT, TANGLE WITH A SKUNK, DIG UP THE PANSIES, AND, IN SHORT, REVERT TO PLAIN DOG.

Which, I submit, applies perfectly to some husbands some wives think they are managing.
